

The Congressional Men's Health Caucus and Prostate Cancer Task Force

in collaboration with Men's Health Network and with American Cancer Society, Cancer Action Network (ACS CAN),
HealthyWomen, and ZERO – The End of Prostate Cancer

Invite you to attend a briefing:

Prostate Cancer and Breast Cancer Communities Find Common Ground through Diagnosis Challenges and Patient Experiences

Thursday April 16, 2015

12:00 noon – 1:30 pm

Rayburn B-340

Lunch will be provided

This briefing will examine the difficulties associated with identifying these cancers, determining if the cancer is aggressive, deciding on treatment options, and the decision-making process.

We will also hear from patients and discuss the part that family and friends play on the decision to treat or not, the type of treatment that might be chosen, and the effect on short- and long-term relationships.

Speakers will Include:

Opening Remarks:

Congressman Donald Payne, Jr. (NJ)

Congressman Markwayne Mullin (OK) (invited)

(Other members of Congress are invited.)

Panelists:

William L. Dahut, M.D., National Cancer Institute
Senior Investigator, Genitourinary Malignancies Branch
Head, Prostate Cancer Clinical Research Section
CCR Clinical Director, Center for Cancer Research

Brandon Leonard, MA
Director, Strategic Initiatives, Men's Health Network

Elizabeth Battaglino, RN
CEO, Healthy Women

Robert Ginyard : Prostate Cancer survivor

Lysette House : Breast Cancer survivor

An RSVP is encouraged, but not required.

Please contact Megan Higdon at Briefing@menshealthnetwork.org or 202-543-6461 x 101 for more information or to RSVP.

This will be a widely attended event.