Men's Health Network Thanks the House of Representatives For Passing Right To Try Legislation

Men's Health Network applauds members of the House of Representatives for passing Right To Try late yesterday. The legislation would allow very sick and terminally ill patients to request experimental treatments that have completed the Phase 1 clinical trial process but have not yet been finally approved by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA).

Men's Health Network supports procedures that offer terminally ill patients a chance at treatments that have not yet made the lengthy and cumbersome journey through the established approval process, but have shown promise that they might save their lives.

Men's Health Network (MHN) is an international non-profit organization whose mission is to reach men, boys, and their families where they live, work, play, and pray with health awareness messages and tools, screening programs, educational materials, advocacy opportunities, and patient navigation.
